

Full Name: .....

Semantics: Tutorial on Situations

Francis Bond <bond@ieee.org>

1. Although English does not mark evidentiality grammatically, it can be expressed in other ways. Consider the following situation: S “Kim bit Sandy”. How could you express the following situations:

- (1) You think S is true, but have no evidence
- (2) You saw S occur
- (3) You saw a bite mark on Sandy, matching Kim’s dental work
- (4) Someone told you S
- (5) You are Sandy, and you experienced S

Are any of these expressed grammatically in a language that you speak?

2. Find examples of each of the semantic roles from the story you are annotating:

- agent
- patient
- theme
- experiencer
- beneficiary
- location
- source
- goal
- stimulus
- instrument

3. Find examples of modality from the story you are annotating:

- Epistemic (knowledge)
  - auxilliary
  - main verb
  - adverb
- Deontic (permisison/obligation)
  - auxilliary
  - main verb
  - adverb